

Lumo - Moldau-Stipendium

- What it was: A literary-and-art prize administered by the Hessian Ministry for Science and the Arts (Germany).
- Timeframe: Awarded annually from 1998 until 2010.
- Purpose: To give selected artists and writers a residency at the Egon Schiele Art Centrum in Český Krumlov, Czech Republic, covering all expenses for a stay of up to two months. This allowed recipients to work in an inspiring historic setting while being financially supported.
- Typical recipients: Visual artists, writers, and other cultural creators. For example, Eva Strautmann received the Moldau-Stipendium in 2008 for a residency in Český Krumlov hessischer-literaturrat.de.

Because the program ended in 2010, there are no current application cycles. If you're looking for similar artist-in-residence opportunities today, you might explore other German cultural foundations or EU-wide artist-exchange programs.
